Workshops in association with the Family Centre

Practical Interventions and Strategies for Parenting and working with Children with ADHD

This course which is organised in association with the Family Centre is a follow up to a similar course held last Autumn. It is designed for parents and teachers who are trying to support children who have Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder. The presenter will examine practical strategies and interventions that both parents and teachers can constructively use. Parents and teachers will also be encouraged to share any previous experiences they may have had with ADHD that might benefit others. It is not necessary to have been at the first course if you wish to attend this one.

Date: Wednesday 21st April 2010
